Phil Coombe III introduced Anthony Siciliano, who was present to represent. The existing 8.93 acre parcel belongs to Kayla Elizabeth Yager. She is the granddaughter of Tom Yager who borders the property on the back. When he sold that lot, he reserved a right of way on what was quoted as “at a location which would shall be determined”. This would make the lot smaller. The decision was made to do a lot improvement instead of a right of way through this parcel, which would extinguish said right-away altogether. A short discussion was had regarding the positioning of the property line. The tax map shows that the property line hits the road, as it is based on an old farm lot line - which comes close to the road, but it never actually does reach the road. Tom now has access to reach his property at the back. Kayla’s property is currently being cleared with the intention to start building on it. Phil Coombe noted that they aren’t creating any new lots, there is no need to do perc tests, or deep test pits, and that this is only a lot line improvement. Anthony Siciliano agreed and added that this is starting with two lots, and ending with two lots. Only a permit is needed for building, showing where the septic and well will be located, which is already in the process.
